

THE WORLD IS TEMPORARILY CLOSED

A SOCIAL SCIENCE RESPONSE TO ISOLATION IN COVID-19 TIMES

The current COVID-19 crisis has created a situation in which suddenly many social researchers have found themselves isolated at home, unable to move freely among the community doing the work they normally do. Researchers have suddenly found doors closed to work internationally and unable to reach their targeted communities.

This is a crisis like no other. We need to think collectively about the various ways that researchers can creatively respond to this situation.

We recognise that some coming and going during the symposium are inevitable and acceptable.*

THE UNIVERSITY OF
WESTERN AUSTRALIA
Achieve International Excellence

ANTHROPOLOGY & SOCIOLOGY SYMPOSIUM School of Social Sciences

WHEN

Friday, April 24th 2020
1 pm – 4 pm (Perth time)
All welcome

WHERE

<https://uwa.zoom.us/j/181626706>

TO DISCUSS

- Identifying the current issues
- Analysing the issues
- Shifting approaches: past, present and into the future
- Tools to overcome the issues

FURTHER INFORMATION

Dorinda 't Hart
dorinda.thart@research.uwa.edu.au

Valentina Utari
valentina.utari@research.uwa.edu.au

Twitter: @UWAAnthsocs